CUPE / Canadian Union

Constitution 2009

CUPE / Canadian Union
of Public Employees

The Canadian Union of Public Employees is Canada's largest union. CUPE represents more than a half million workers in a wide range of occupations from coast to coast.

CUPE is a democratic union in which the members make the decisions and set the policies. At all levels, it is the rank-and-file members who determine by majority vote what the Union does.

The CUPE Constitution came into existence at the Founding Convention in 1963 when the National Union of Public Employees (NUPE) and the National Union of Public Service Employees (NUPSE) merged to form the Canadian Union of Public Employees. Changes to the Constitution can only be made by the delegates at the Union's Biennial Convention.

The CUPE Constitution accordingly belongs to the members of CUPE. It determines the Union's objectives and how the Union operates. It forms the basis for the functioning of the more than 2,200 CUPE local unions across Canada.

The administrator shall also call meetings of the membership in the normal manner and keep them informed of the details concerning the administration. The administrator shall be responsible to and shall regularly report to the National President and the National Executive Board.

(g) An administrator may only control the affairs of a chartered organization under this Article up to a maximum of twelve months. After this period, new elections must be held within the administrated chartered organization unless the National Executive Board, by a two-thirds majority, approves a further period of administration. - (f) The Trial Committee shall determine whether the accused is guilty or not of the complaint or complaints by secret ballot and a finding of guilt may only be sustained when at least four (4) members of the Trial Committee cast their votes for a finding of guilt against the accused.

- (g) If the accused is found guilty, the Trial Committee shall determine the appropriate penalty or punishment and it may determine what, if anything, the accused shall do or refrain from doing with respect to the complaint or complaints. Such withdrawal card shall be evidence of the fact that the holder was in good standing in the Local when employment was transferred from the jurisdiction of the Local, and shall entitle the holder to take up membership in the same Local at a future date should he/she again work within its jurisdiction, without the payment of a new initiation fee.

“I solemnly promise and declare that I will support and obey the Constitution of this Union; that I will strive to improve economic and social conditions for my fellow members and for working people generally; that I will defend and strive to extend the democratic rights and liberties of all working people; that I will not purposely or knowingly wrong, or assist others in wronging a member of the Union.”

B.10.5 Where an existing organization following a majority vote of its members at a duly constituted meeting, applies for and receives a charter from the Canadian Union of Public Employees, the foregoing provisions shall not apply and the issue of a charter shall confer full membership rights in the Canadian Union of Public Employees on all the members of such organization.

APPENDIX “D”

EQUALITY STATEMENT

Union solidarity is based on the principle that union members are equal and deserve mutual respect at all levels. Any behaviour that creates conflict prevents us from working together to strengthen our union.

As unionists, mutual respect, cooperation and understanding are our goals. We should neither condone nor tolerate behaviour that undermines the dignity or self-esteem of any individual or creates an intimidating, hostile or offensive environment.

Discriminatory speech or conduct which is racist, sexist, transphobic or homophobic hurts and thereby divides us. So too, does discrimination on the basis of ability, age, class, religion, language and ethnic origin.

Sometimes discrimination takes the form of harassment. Harassment means using real or perceived power to abuse, devalue or humiliate. Harassment should not be treated as a joke. The uneasiness and resentment that it creates are not feelings that help us grow as a union.

Discrimination and harassment focus on characteristics that make us different; and they reduce our capacity to work together on shared concerns such as decent wages, safe working conditions, and justice in the workplace, society and in our union.

CUPE's policies and practices must reflect our commitment to equality. Members, staff and elected officers must be mindful that all sisters and brothers deserve dignity, equality and respect.
